INSURANCE DEPARTMENT PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 1, 2004

On Wednesday, June 30, 2004, the New Hampshire Insurance Department Fraud Unit held an all-day seminar at the New Hampshire Police Standards and Training building in Concord. This annual seminar is an advanced program about insurance fraud that is made available to law enforcement by the Department's Fraud Unit providing instruction on investigating and recognizing claims that are fraudulent in nature such as staged accidents, motor vehicle theft, and slip and fall claims. The seminar included representatives from the National Insurance Crime Bureau and two special investigators from the insurance industry. All seminar instructors were particularly pleased with the attendance at this all-day event, and the state-of-the-art equipment recently acquired by New Hampshire Police Standards and Training.

The all-day seminar represents only a small part of the New Hampshire Insurance Department Fraud Unit's outreach program. Representatives of the unit are available to make presentations about insurance fraud before other interested groups. For more information about the New Hampshire Insurance Department Fraud Unit call 1-800-852-3416.
